

Dr Jay Mehta is a trained surgical pathologist with specialization in oncopathology. He graduated from the renowned Tata memorial hospital, Mumbai. Currently he consults at SRL Diagnostics' Centre of Excellence in Histopathology at Mumbai. Besides oncopathology in general, he has special interest in lymphomas and bone marrow pathology. He is among a handful of people in India who practice diagnostic molecular pathology, for which he has received training at Hammersmith hospital, Imperial college, London and Memorial Sloane Kettering hospital, New York.